WASHINGTON--REP. PAUL ROGERS, D-FLA., SAID TODAY THAT EVIDENCE PRODUCED BY A SENATE INVESTIGATION INDICATED A "CRYING NEED" FOR CLOSER CONGRESSIONAL CONTROL OVER THE CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY.

ROGERS SAID IN A STATEMENT THAT THE SENATE PREPAREDNESS SUBCOMMITTEE HAD PRODUCED A "FIRM INDICEMENT" OF THE CIA.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE SAID IN A REPORT RELEASED FRIDAY THAT WHILE THE CIA AND MILITARY INTELLIGENCE "CAN BE CRITICIZED IN SOME AREAS, IN OTHER AREAS THEY PERFORMED CREDITABLY."
